Before You Begin

Know Your Purpose:

-If it is to encourage empathy towards and understanding of others, ask players to assume the point of view stated on the card even if (especially if) it is not their own. It's a chance to walk in the shoes of another and discover how you might respond were you faced with the challenge.

-If your goal is to teach others to coach individuals in crisis, you may want to approach the exercise differently. Have participants select Skills & Attitudes that they might suggest for use by the individual in crisis.

-If your mission is crisis prevention, try applying the Skills & Attitudes to the challenges in a proactive manner to see how situations might be preventable.

Such groups might be: healthcare providers and their patients, police officers and immigrants or baby boomers and millennials. Using healthcare for example, bring providers and patients together. Have the providers select challenges from the Healthcare Dilemma deck and patients draw from the Healthcare Professional deck. Have the group pair off (i.e. one healthcare provider and one patient). The pairs are charged with coaching one another to face challenges that may be unfamiliar to them. It is helpful to ask that they assume the point of view on the card in order to encourage empathy and understanding.

Once you know your Purpose and your Participants...begin.

BounceBack is a serious game, a tool that may help build mental toughness by asking people to respond to real world challenges using the Skills & Attitudes of resilience.

The goal is to bring people together to share thoughts and perspectives on how to respond to the many challenges life puts forth. We offer some coaching and game play suggestions, but how you choose to use these cards is really up to you.

Know your Participants:

-Are you coaching an individual in transition? Is the transition specific to a particular issue such as Divorce/Finance or Disability? Select and use those decks that best relate to the transition/s being experienced.

-Are the participants looking to build a broader sense of resilience Skills & Attitudes that relate to their particular vocation? Select from our bundles or choose individual decks that relate best to the needs of the group you are working with.

-Do you have populations that could build resilience through a better understanding of the challenges faced by each?

The Basic Concept:

You're presented with a Challenge Card. Spread the ten Skills & Attitudes cards out so that they can be seen. Read the challenge on the face of your card. Using the ten cards in front of you, select the cards having the Skills & Attitudes you wish to apply in order to manage the challenge at hand. Turn over your Challenge card to see the Skills & Attitudes (indicated by a red* asterisk) that we suggest might be most helpful in managing the situation. Repeat this process, in turn, for each participant. And please, don't forget the discussion. Adapt this basic concept as you will to fit the needs of you and/or your participants.

BounceBack was developed as a tool to practice responding to life's challenges. Challenges are presented and the user chooses skills and attitudes that he or she wishes to apply in order to respond to that challenge. It's very simple. It's practice. With >36 decks and >720 challenge questions, it's a lot of practice.

-Sometimes our loved ones present our greatest challenges. Our dear friends and family can challenge us in ways that others cannot by virtue of the intimate relationship that we share. We want to live in harmony with our loved ones and yet conflict is inevitable. We are connected yet separate, related yet distinct, and similar yet very different.

-Connect and communicate with family using this deck. Share your application of the Skills & Attitudes of resilience to the challenges presented and those you have experienced. Use these cards in family/group therapy to initiate conversation and encourage empathy for the views of others. Teach the Skills & Attitudes of resilience to young people in preparation for responding to the challenges they will likely face in the future.

Family/Relationships

My husband, Ken, started his own business ten years ago. He loves the work but it is stressful. I receive a call from work informing me that Ken may have had a heart attack and is en route via ambulance to the emergency room. I need to move. Get the keys, my purse...I can't seem to remember the address of the hospital.

Family/Relationships

My mother and I were very close. She struggled with cancer for some time and passed away a few days ago. Many family members are openly sad and tearful. But I feel a sense of relief...and incredible guilt for feeling that way.

Family/Relationships

Mariah is a 17-year-old high school senior with many college options. She's my firstborn. I've been so proud of her over the years. While stripping the bedsheets for washing, I found the remains of a home pregnancy test kit stuffed under her mattress. The test stick stuffed inside shows that she is pregnant.
