Before You Begin

Know Your Purpose:

-If it is to encourage empathy towards and understanding of others, ask players to assume the point of view stated on the card even if (especially if) it is not their own. It's a chance to walk in the shoes of another and discover how you might respond were you faced with the challenge.

-If your goal is to teach others to coach individuals in crisis, you may want to approach the exercise differently. Have participants select Skills & Attitudes that they might suggest for use by the individual in crisis.

-If your mission is crisis prevention, try applying the Skills & Attitudes to the challenges in a proactive manner to see how situations might be preventable.

Such groups might be: healthcare providers and their patients, police officers and immigrants or baby boomers and millennials. Using healthcare for example, bring providers and patients together. Have the providers select challenges from the Healthcare Dilemma deck and patients draw from the Healthcare Professional deck. Have the group pair off (i.e. one healthcare provider and one patient). The pairs are charged with coaching one another to face challenges that may be unfamiliar to them. It is helpful to ask that they assume the point of view on the card in order to encourage empathy and understanding.

Once you know your Purpose and your Participants...begin.

BounceBack is a serious game, a tool that may help build mental toughness by asking people to respond to real world challenges using the Skills & Attitudes of resilience.

The goal is to bring people together to share thoughts and perspectives on how to respond to the many challenges life puts forth. We offer some coaching and game play suggestions, but how you choose to use these cards is really up to you.

Know your Participants:

-Are you coaching an individual in transition? Is the transition specific to a particular issue such as Divorce/Finance or Disability? Select and use those decks that best relate to the transition/s being experienced.

-Are the participants looking to build a broader sense of resilience Skills & Attitudes that relate to their particular vocation? Select from our bundles or choose individual decks that relate best to the needs of the group you are working with.

-Do you have populations that could build resilience through a better understanding of the challenges faced by each?

The Basic Concept:

You're presented with a Challenge Card. Spread the ten Skills & Attitudes cards out so that they can be seen. Read the challenge on the face of your card. Using the ten cards in front of you, select the cards having the Skills & Attitudes you wish to apply in order to manage the challenge at hand. Turn over your Challenge card to see the Skills & Attitudes (indicated by a red* asterisk) that we suggest might be most helpful in managing the situation. Repeat this process, in turn, for each participant. And please, don't forget the discussion. Adapt this basic concept as you will to fit the needs of you and/or your participants.

BounceBack was developed as a tool to practice responding to life's challenges. Challenges are presented and the user chooses skills and attitudes that he or she wishes to apply in order to respond to that challenge. It's very simple. It's practice. With >36 decks and >720 challenge questions, it's a lot of practice.

-Hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, and tsunamis. We're far more familiar with these events than we used to be. Severe weather events uncharacteristic of the season catch us off guard. Some of these adversities may be manmade such as fires and toxic spills. But regardless of the source, these events could easily become disasters if we are unprepared. It is no secret that resilient communities fair better during times of crisis.

-This deck is another of the original Bounceback decks written for and with the help of a grant from the Maine Emergency Management Agency and local first responders. Use this deck with your family to practice the Skills & Attitudes of resilience while responding to the challenges presented. Use them in a proactive way to discuss and form family/neighborhood safety plans. Use them in large community forums to build strategies to cope with adverse events or as a teaching tool to learn how future disaster might be prevented.

Natural Disaster

I live in a wooded area that hasn't seen rain in quite some time. Fire crews are battling a fire approximately one mile from here. I've not been advised to evacuate my home yet, but I have a growing discomfort knowing how quickly fire can change course.

Natural Disaster

My buddies and I are headed back to school after a night away for a pro basketball game. Its homecoming weekend; football, parties, females. As we near the river, we can see that it's jumped it's banks and the road ahead is flooded. It's the only route back. Lance dares me to drive through it.

Natural Disaster?

Southern California had always been our dream. We purchased a home with a gorgeous view that sits along a wooded slope. Life was good; sunny days, warm temperatures. Then came the rain. The heaviest I've seen yet. It's Monday. My wife and I are at work and the kids at school. I get a call. A mudslide has buried our garage and done considerable damage to our home. I'm advised to seek alternative shelter for tonight.
