Before You Begin

Know Your Purpose:

-If it is to encourage empathy towards and understanding of others, ask players to assume the point of view stated on the card even if (especially if) it is not their own. It's a chance to walk in the shoes of another and discover how you might respond were you faced with the challenge.

-If your goal is to teach others to coach individuals in crisis, you may want to approach the exercise differently. Have participants select Skills & Attitudes that they might suggest for use by the individual in crisis.

-If your mission is crisis prevention, try applying the Skills & Attitudes to the challenges in a proactive manner to see how situations might be preventable.

Such groups might be: healthcare providers and their patients, police officers and immigrants or baby boomers and millennials. Using healthcare for example, bring providers and patients together. Have the providers select challenges from the Healthcare Dilemma deck and patients draw from the Healthcare Professional deck. Have the group pair off (i.e. one healthcare provider and one patient). The pairs are charged with coaching one another to face challenges that may be unfamiliar to them. It is helpful to ask that they assume the point of view on the card in order to encourage empathy and understanding.

Once you know your Purpose and your Participants...begin.

BounceBack is a serious game, a tool that may help build mental toughness by asking people to respond to real world challenges using the Skills & Attitudes of resilience.

The goal is to bring people together to share thoughts and perspectives on how to respond to the many challenges life puts forth. We offer some coaching and game play suggestions, but how you choose to use these cards is really up to you.

Know your Participants:

-Are you coaching an individual in transition? Is the transition specific to a particular issue such as Divorce/Finance or Disability? Select and use those decks that best relate to the transition/s being experienced.

-Are the participants looking to build a broader sense of resilience Skills & Attitudes that relate to their particular vocation? Select from our bundles or choose individual decks that relate best to the needs of the group you are working with.

-Do you have populations that could build resilience through a better understanding of the challenges faced by each?

The Basic Concept:

You're presented with a Challenge Card. Spread the ten Skills & Attitudes cards out so that they can be seen. Read the challenge on the face of your card. Using the ten cards in front of you, select the cards having the Skills & Attitudes you wish to apply in order to manage the challenge at hand. Turn over your Challenge card to see the Skills & Attitudes (indicated by a red* asterisk) that we suggest might be most helpful in managing the situation. Repeat this process, in turn, for each participant. And please, don't forget the discussion. Adapt this basic concept as you will to fit the needs of you and/or your participants.

BounceBack was developed as a tool to practice responding to life's challenges. Challenges are presented and the user chooses skills and attitudes that he or she wishes to apply in order to respond to that challenge. It's very simple. It's practice. With >36 decks and >720 challenge questions, it's a lot of practice.

-Work is a huge part of our lives. It accounts for approximately 1/3 of our lifetime. Because we invest so much of our time and energy at work, challenges that arise not only demand much attention but can elicit strong feelings. It is good to feel some passion for the work that we do. But we must manage our responses to these challenges in order to move past them.

-The work environments of the 21st Century requires that we accept change as a given. Change can be most challenging to some. But change we must and we must develop productive ways to respond.

-This deck was created for those who feel the challenged...perhaps frustrated by the work environment. Use it to work through the scenarios and practice applying the Skills & Attitudes of resilience to the challenges presented as well as those you face at work. Use it as a training tool in a work environment to get employees to connect, communicate and respond to challenges in the deck and those specific to the work they do. Teach young people to prepare for their future work challenges.

Work/Money

It's Tuesday. Payday isn't until Friday. The breakfast foods and most of the lunch items are gone. There's some pasta left. I have little cash to get to and from work and there's no balance left on my food stamp card. My food stamp worker told me about a food pantry about 3 miles south of my apartment. I've never used it before. But my kids need to eat. What if someone I know sees me coming out?

Work/Money

I was rear-ended by a truck driver while stopped at a traffic light. There were no serious injuries to either the driver or me. My car, however, sustained considerable damage. I commute quite a distance to and from work daily and I cannot afford to miss even one day of work right now.

Work/Money

I've been on the job for 23 years. I'm good at what I do. I've been promoted to management and am well respected by those I work with. I should be happy but I'm not. The money doesn't even motivate me anymore. I find myself daydreaming about cocktail's on a Caribbean island surrounded by tanned natives. I snap out of it quickly when my monthly mortgage bill arrives.
