Training and tools created by Building Resilience, LLC are not intended to be a substitute for professional medical advice for which your health/mental healthcare professional is your best source. If you believe that you may benefit from care, you should consult a licensed health/mental health professional.

Statements or descriptions contained in BounceBack and many of our training tools are informational only. They do not represent the opinions of Building Resilience, L.L.C. They are but a reflection of the diverse thoughts, attitudes, and actions of the characters and challenges to be addressed in today's society. The content of some challenges may not be appropriate for all users.

The listing of resources and/or providers on the Building Resilience website is not to be seen as an endorsement of products and/or services nor is it intended to be a validation of the factual nature of the information/services offered by same. We strive to list resources that provide information on public assistance programs, crisis intervention and/or self-help programs in order to empower individuals to work through challenges using reliable resources that offer unbiased information without a for-profit agenda. The user is solely responsible for determining the adequacy of the resources and providers listed.

We have chosen to list some local healthcare providers of non-pharmaceutical treatments for chronic pain on our Chronic Pain Resources page as a public service. In the interest of transparency, these providers pay a small fee for the listing and updates. This is a listing fee only and does not represent an agreement to promote nor provide marketing services to these providers. As with our other resource page, the user is solely responsible for determining the adequacy of the resources and providers listed.

The purchaser of BounceBack and all products created by Building Resilience, LLC, is solely responsible for determining the adequacy of this material and its' application. The use of this material and/or information and resources posted to our website shall not be subject to any implied warranties of fitness for that purpose.
